HOMEMADE CIDERS & MEADS

Old Gold                      Dry                      Barrel Aged                      8%                      $20 750ml Bottle

We pressed Old Gold from some of the last apples grown by our friends Sue and Ed Goold on their family orchard and it rested in maple bourbon barrels for over a year, giving it a mellow whiskey character. Think crisp white wine aged in Kentucky.

Only 53 cases bottled.

Kabbin                      Dry                      Wild Cider                      7%                      $15 500ml Bottle

Kabbin is wild fermented from wild apples. We spent the month of October picking apples in the Catskill Mountains—Maplecrest sweets, Durham sours, and flowering crabs from the Arboretum. Kabbin has a full, mildly funky flavor.

Only 96 cases bottled.

Tina                      Off-Dry                      Roadside Blend                      7.2%                      $15 500ml Bottle

Our friend Tina let us pick truckloads of apples from her farm in the Catskill mountains. And while the backbone of this cider is an uncultivated, bitter-sweet apple, on trips to Tina's we would pick every roadside crab we could find, resulting in a complex dry cider with a balanced structure and crisp finish.

Only 117 cases bottled.

Cherry Baby                      Dry                      Cherry Rosé                      8%                      $20 750ml Bottle

On May 5th, Left Bank added its newest and cutest staff member just in time for cherry season. We got leftover cherry skins with pits from Mead Orchard and used them to kickstart a secondary ferment on a batch of cider, leading to a pronounced cherry aroma and a complex cherry-apple flavor, with hints of vanilla bean and almond.

Wild Duchess                      Dry                      Wild Cider                      7%                      $20 750ml Bottle

The Duchess of Oldenburg is an antique apple with origins in 17th century Russia—a red-streaked beauty known for its ruggedness and tolerance for extreme weather. We blended The Duchess with crabs and other mid-season apples and let the juice ferment naturally, from its own wild yeasts. We aged the batch for five months in rye whiskey barrels to round out the edges and let it ferment to complete dryness.

Only 43 cases bottled.

Byron                      Dry                      Estate Cider                      7%                      $26 750ml Bottle

Byron is a grateful homage to our friend who has lovingly stewarded his 100+ year old antique orchard with extraordinary care, never spraying. To honor this special place, we blended his best Baldwins, Northern Spies, and Roxbury Russets into this flavorful dry cider. This one is all about the apples.

Only 43 cases bottled.

MarryAnn's Mead                      Dry                      Mead                      12%                      $15 375ml Bottle

MaryAnn Welsh makes wildflower honey at her homestead near Middleburgh, NY. Of course, it's the bees that really make it, and her careful partnership with them results in this mead. We mixed her honey with filtered water, fermented to complete dryness, and barrel aged for close to a year. This is a full-bodied honey flavor without any cloying sweetness.

Only 41 cases bottled.
